SRH Essentials is a one-day interactive evidence-based learning experience designed by the Faculty of Sexual and Reproductive Healthcare. The course provides a solid foundation for those who see patients with sexual and reproductive health needs but who have had little or no formal SRH training. Delegates acquire the skills to consult patients knowledgeably and confidently on contraception, STI testing and emergency contraception.

On completion of SRH Essentials, delegates will have the skills and confidence to:

- Assess when a patient is at risk of pregnancy
- Assess when a patient needs emergency contraception and what method can be recommended safely
- Review the COC, POP and injection contraceptive methods
- Carry out sexual health risk assessments
- Identify when a patient is at risk of STIs

Certificates of Attendance are issued to attendees after the course.
